

By David Hill | Published by The Gazette on August 25, 2010

A group of College Park volunteers who organized an April 22 stream cleanup hope the event was the first of many collaborative community projects.

The Earth Day cleanup was organized by the Faith Community Network of College Park, a group of volunteers from more than 10 places of worship in the city, including Hope Lutheran Church, United University Methodist Church and Dar-us-Salaam mosque.

Image Description: (From left) Dujanah Mohamed of the Dar-us-Salaam mosque, the Rev. Peter Antoci, university chaplain of Episcopal/Anglican campus mosque, and Dujanah's father, Azad Mohamed, of the Dar-us-Salaam community celebrate the 40th anniversary of Earth Day.